CompTIA Technology Interest Group Forum User Guidelines

The CompTIA Technology Interest Group. This site allows technology companies and professionals to share valuable information, resources and best practices related to specific technology areas. The forum also serves as a place to ask questions of your peers, list or learn about events and programs, and benefit from ideas and processes that are working for other companies.

- Creating an Account
  - Personal Information
    - All participants are required to provide their full name and organization.
    - Including your photo, title, and links to social media accounts is optional, but it makes for better interactions on the forum if you do.
- Posting in in the Forum
  - Post in the Corresponding Category and Section
    - There are multiple categories in the forum and posts should be included in the category that best fits the purpose of the post. For example, if you have a question, post it in the Questions & Answers section under the Community category.
  - Seek Out Quality and Quantity
    - Only post content that is relevant to the community.
  - Post Relevant Industry Resources
    - Do not post unconfirmed news items and resources that have not been validated by a neutral trustworthy source.
  - Share Your Point of View
    - Include a comment with a post including open-ended questions when possible – "Do you agree with this piece?" or your opinion "This prediction is off because…".
  - Be Professional and Courteous
    - Do not post political or personal matters.
  - Be sure to respond to any questions or comments in a timely manner.
  - Survey the Group
    - Ask important questions about specific workplace or business issues you or your company is facing.
  - Beware of Cross-Posting
    - Keep in mind that members are involved in multiple categories and sections so try not to cross post too much. Keep the topics within the section focus.
- Forum Monitoring by CompTIA
  - CompTIA will monitor all posts in the forum.
  - CompTIA will remove posts that are not in accordance with the user guidelines.

- Violators of the Best Practices Guidelines
  - On the first offense, the post will be removed, and the author will be sent a warning
  - On the second offense, the post will be removed, and the author will be removed from the group

For questions and additional information please contact the CompTIA staff Kathleen Martin (kmartin@comptia.org).